

PDTM Website: Quick Reference Guide

It is recommended that you view the site using Google Chrome or Internet Explorer 9 (or above). Using an older style browser may impact your viewing experience

1 Navigation

There are 4 top level sections:

- Contact This section has information on who to contact if you have a question about the PDTM or Professional Practice
- Monograph Information This section contains the Monographs and supporting reference material
- Quick Reference Guide This section contains this guide in downloadable format.
- FAQs This section has the answers to questions you may have about the PDTM

Monograph Information section

The Monograph Information section has additional navigation on the left side of each page. You can navigate to the sub-section by clicking on the name.

All of the Monograph information documents are held in PDF format.

Note: If a sub-section has a plus sign (+) beside it, you can click on the plus to see more.

Site search

At the top right of the site there is a search box. You can search for content using keywords here. This search will look for a match anywhere on the site.

Home

You can reach the homepage from anywhere on the site by clicking the Adult Parenteral Drug Therapy Manual words in the site header.

2 Monographs

Monographs can be found in the Monograph Information section, on the Monographs page

Search Monographs

You can use the search feature on this page to search for drug names specifically within the Monograph documents.

There are 3 options to search with:

- All names
- Generic name
- Alternate names

Enter your search term and click on the Search button.

All Monographs with matching content will be listed below the search box.

Monograph Index

Below the search box, all Monographs will be listed in alphabetical order. You can click on the name of any Monograph to open the document.